Rare vase, Johann Loetz Witwe, decor Phenomen
Genre 7506, Metallviolett ca. 1898

In broad, diagonal bands, this early Phenomen Gre drapes itself over the entire vase, wrapping around its balustered, quadruple-indented form. Its undulating interwoven threads create an almost fabric-like quality to the design. The silvery blue pattern wraps contrastingly over the metallic purple ground. The Genre 7506 phenomenon is one of the rarer decorations and is a vivid example of the Loetz Glassworks' eagerness to experiment from before its participation in the Paris World's Fair in 1900.
