Vase, Johann Loetz Witwe, decor Phenomen
Genre 7801 on Bronze ground, ca. 1899, signed

Décor PG 7801 is one of the early Phenomen Genre decors presented by Loetz from around 1898 on. On a bronze-colored ground, the drawn silver threads seemingly climb up the vase body like leaves. Its bluish shimmering threads show in themselves a very delicate drawing. The fine pattern nestles against the vessel like a stylized floral design and merges perfectly with its elongated, elegant shape. Thus, this vase with its harmonious shape and décor can be considered a classic representative of the early Phenomenon Genres from Loetz glassworks.
