CA. 1905 SIGNED

€21.000,00

Rouen with cathedral, Rudolf Quittner (1872-1910), oil on canvas, signed

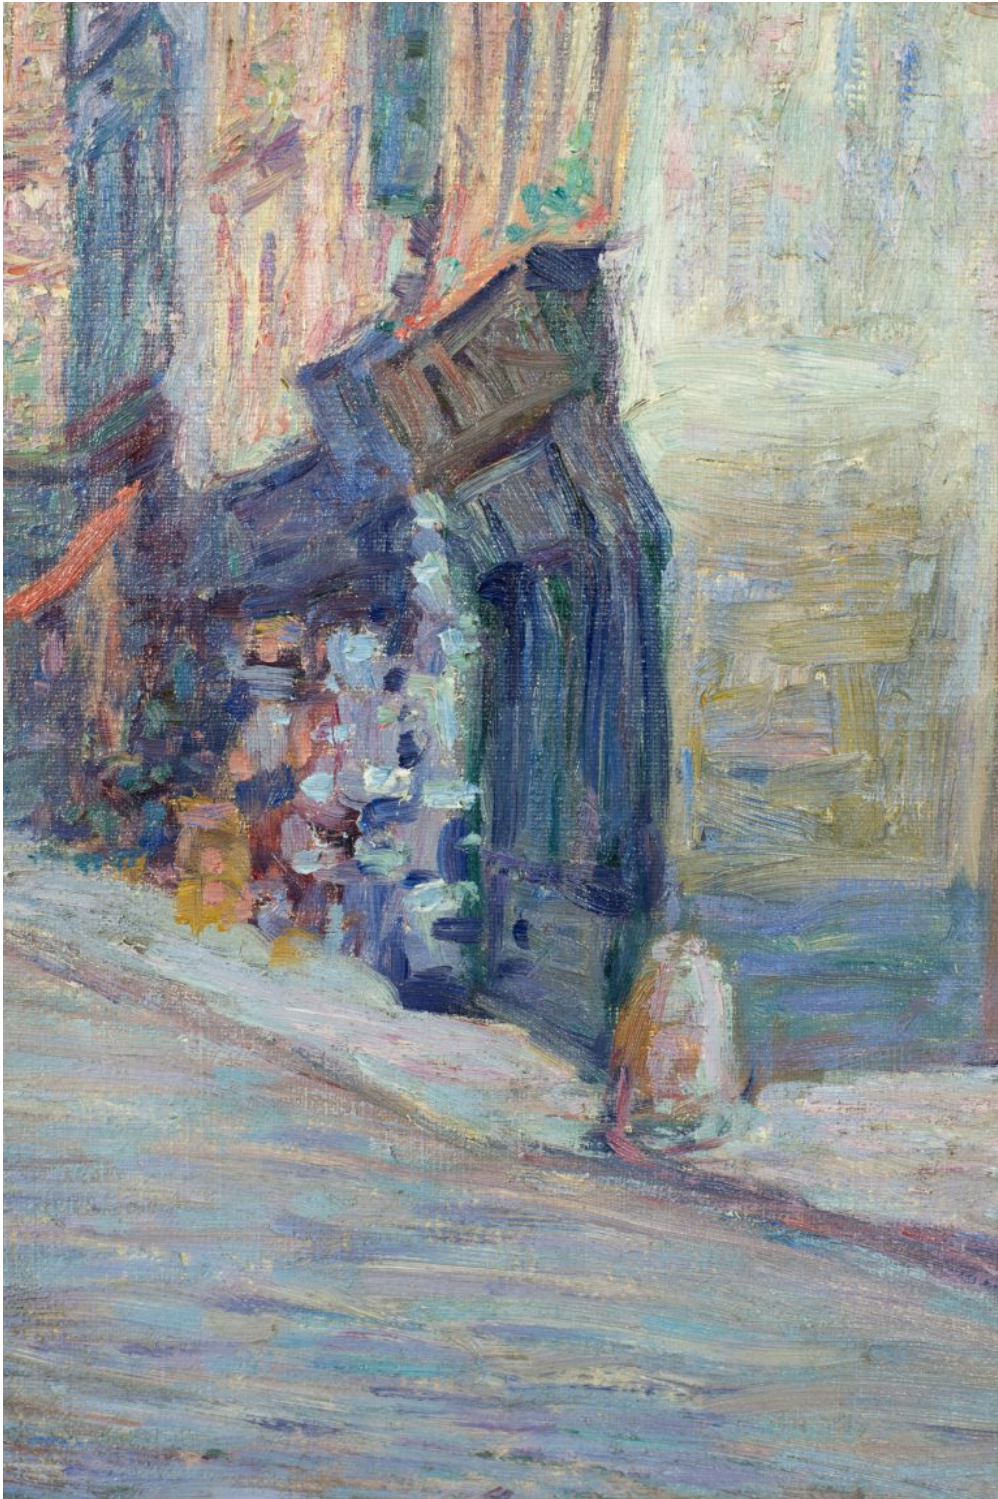

Rudolf Quittner was an Austrian Impressionist painter. Already during his technical degree Quittner had engaged in painting, finally he attended the Académie Julian in Paris and also received lessons in landscape painting from Camille Pissarro. For study purposes, he travelled almost all over Europe, the Orient and North America (USA, Canada and Mexico). In between he lived in Paris, where he was mentored by Claude Monet, and from 1901 also in Vienna. From 1905 on, he was a member of the "Gesellschaft der bildenden Künstler Wiens" (Vienna Association of Fine Artists).
